YOUR GUIDE

Michelle DuVal, MA, is the leading provider of Mindfulness Training in the Southwest United States. Her skill in teaching comes not only from her training with the top meditation masters in the world, but also from her father, who started The Mindful Center more than 25 years ago after meditation literally saved his life and he responded to the powerful need to share the practice with others. All of her programs are evidence based, steeped in research, and skillfully interweave the profundity of the practice and the humor of insight every step of the way.
